On September 25, we took students to the Herald Dispatch Career Builder Fair at the students filled out applications and were offered interviews with such companies as Amazon.com and Global Contact Services.

On September 26, the students attended the food handlers class offered at the Cabell County Health Department. Each student earned their food handlers card after attending the two hour lecture and satisfactorily completing a written test.

attended the College and Career Fair at the Veterans Memorial Field House. The fair supplied the students with a lot of educational opportunities to think about. Exhibitors included many of the colleges within the tri state area as well as military branches and employers. Several of the students picked up applications and requested catalogs be sent to them.

On Monday, October 1, CCYEP students

On Thursday, October 4, Mr. Jim Garrett from Huntington Junior College came to the Douglas Center to speak with our students about the college. We followed his presentation up with a trip to Huntington Junior College for a tour and lunch. CCYEP students were able to speak with many of the professors at this institution and get a feel for the small school environment. We also were able to observe students in the Real Time Reporting class, which the students found the most interesting.

Congratulations to both Corey Turner and Charlie Schaffner for obtaining their driver's license during the month of October.

Marco Cheaib, former CCYEP student, has completed the phlebotomy and EKG program at Triad Tech. He also recently enrolled in a ten week drug testing course at Triad. He has taken the national certification exam for both the phlebotomy and EKG and is awaiting his scores. Congratulations Marco!!
