

HUNTINGTON SCHOOL OF FINE WOODWORK

DECEMBER 2005

The first weekend of December, students in the morning adult woodshop class and students in the afternoon youth woodshop class participated in the Huntington Lion's Club Arts and Crafts Show at the Big Sandy Superstore Arena.

Students displayed and sold their woodcrafts throughout the three-day event.

Once again, visitors to the event were very impressed with the craftsmanship and creativity of the students as they stopped by the woodshop booth.

Under the leadership of Greg Meadows, at this year's show, students displayed and sold custom-made furniture along with game boards, picture frames and outdoor furniture.

Several custom orders were taken, with students scurrying back to the woodshop classroom the next week to complete many of the orders for Christmas.

New classes for adults and youth are set to begin in February, 2006
